ENGLEWOOD, COLORADO · RATES FOR 2026

Websites, and the marketing that keeps them busy.

Sites, print, social, local search, and the tracking underneath that tells you where leads actually came from — five things usually sold as five contracts by five companies. You deal with me directly, not an account manager. Here is what all of it costs.

Monthly, three tiers

NO SETUP FEE · NOTHING LONGER THAN TWELVE MONTHS

Foundation

For a business whose online presence does not currently work.

$700 / MONTH — $200 a week

$100 off for committing to a month

- Your site hosted, maintained and updated — up to 7 pages
- Two content updates a month
- Google Business Profile set up and optimised
- Four social posts a month, one platform
- A one-page report every month

Engine

For a business that wants steady output rather than a one-off fix.

$1,400 / MONTH — $400 a week

$200 off for committing to a month

- Everything in Foundation
- Up to 15 pages, unlimited edits, one new page a month
- Twelve posts a month across two platforms, plus a designed graphic
- Weekly Google posts, review requests, listings cleaned up
- A campaign landing page every quarter
- Lead forms with call and form tracking
- A working session with me every month

Pipeline

For a business with demand already, and nothing catching it.

$2,800 / MONTH — $800 a week

$400 off for committing to a month

- Everything in Engine
- Your Google and Meta ads managed on up to $10,000 a month of your own ad spend — creative and copy included, and you pay the platforms directly
- Twenty posts a month across three platforms, plus two designed graphics
- Two researched articles a month for your site
- Lead response and tracking built and maintained
- A strategy review each quarter, print work as needed
- A report every week

Weekly and monthly buy exactly the same work. The weekly rate is a quarter of the standard monthly one, so four weeks of Engine is $1,600. Commit to a single month and $200 of that comes off. A month also averages 4.33 weeks rather than four, so roughly every third month carries a fifth week at no extra charge. Over a year that is $16,800 monthly against $20,800 weekly — and weekly still lets you stop on a week's notice.

Websites

SEPARATE FROM THE MONTHLY

Starter up to 7 pages	$2,200
Standard 8 to 15 pages	$4,500
Custom 16 to 30 pages, data-driven	$8,000

The monthly tiers run your site. They don't build it. An existing site is picked up as it is, with no build fee. A new one, or a replacement, is the number above — paid once, half at signing and half at launch. You own the site and the source files once it is paid for.

A year of Engine or Pipeline includes the website.
Commit to twelve months on either tier and there is no build fee at all — up to 15 pages on Engine, up to 30 on Pipeline.

One thing, before you ask

BETTER HERE THAN LATER

Anything I write for you, I check first. A number or claim going on your site comes from an original source and I keep a record of what I checked.

None	30 days	12 months	Yours
Setup or onboarding fee	Notice to stop, or a week on weekly	Longest commitment I ask for, and how long these rates hold from signing	Every file, once paid for. Your Google profile and ad accounts stay in your name

Tell me what the business does and where the work comes from now.

That is genuinely enough to start with. You get me on the phone, not a receptionist and not a queue. If I don't think I am the right fit, I will say so instead.
