PEAK PICKLEBALL · SPONSOR PROSPECTING ONE-SHEET

Who to target, and how to get the meeting

For Brandon and Matthew · 19 Oct 2026 · internal, not for sponsors

The rule: the businesses most likely to sponsor are the ones that sell something worth thousands to local homeowners, older adults or families, and already pay for local advertising. Peak's own 28 sponsors prove which kinds buy here. Start with their competitors and neighbours.

Target markets, warmest first

MARKET	WHO TO CALL	WHY THEY BUY
Health and recovery PROVEN	Orthopedics, physical therapy, chiropractic, IV and stretch studios, dental, hearing, eye care	Players get hurt and sore; one patient is worth thousands
Medicare and senior PROVEN	Medicare advisors and insurers, senior living, home care, estate planning	The 55+ Senior Club is their exact customer
Home services PROVEN	Roofing, exteriors, electric, flooring, HVAC, solar, landscaping, remodelers	High-value jobs for local homeowners
Money and property PROVEN	Banks, credit unions, financial advisors, insurance agents, realtors, mortgage lenders	Long customer relationships; community-minded marketing budgets
Auto PROVEN	Dealerships, body and dent repair, tires	The PPA Tour's title sponsor is a car company (Carvana)
Food and drink PROVEN	Restaurants near Chapel Hills, breweries, delivery	Players eat and drink after games; MLP is presented by DoorDash
Military and veterans LOCAL FIT	Defense contractors, VA-adjacent services, veteran-owned businesses	Bases are over 27% of local jobs; Peak's veterans program is a ready cause
Adaptive and mobility LOCAL FIT	Wheelchair and mobility suppliers, rehab hospitals	Numotion backed the Wheelchair Nationals held at Peak
Large employers LOCAL FIT	Amazon, The Broadmoor, Children's Hospital Colorado, Penrose-St. Francis, UCHealth	Staff memberships and team events more than signs

PROVEN = Peak already has sponsors in this market. LOCAL FIT = matches Colorado Springs or Peak's programs.

Who decides

- Small and local businesses: the owner. Ask for them by name.
- Hospitals, banks, dealerships: the marketing or community relations manager.
- Staff memberships: HR or the benefits manager.

Where the leads come from

1. Peak members who own businesses. Ask at signup and at the front desk; invite them to a sponsor night.
2. Current sponsors. Two referrals each, and their direct competitors.
3. Chambers and networking groups. Member directories, plus mixers to host at Peak.
4. Who already advertises locally. Local TV and radio ads, billboards, mailers, expo vendors.
5. Map searches. Every business in a target market within a few miles of Chapel Hills.

Getting the meeting

Invite them to the courts, don't pitch on the phone. A free group lesson for their team gets the decision-maker into the building, and the 24 courts sell themselves.

TOUCHES

1. Day 1: walk in or call; offer the free team session.
2. Day 2: email the sponsor sheet and two times to visit.
3. Day 7: call back.
4. Day 14: last touch, then set a reminder for next quarter.

> "Hi, I'm with Peak Pickleball at Chapel Hills. A lot of our members are exactly your customers. Can I bring your team in for a free session on the courts and show you what we do with local businesses?"

Running the meeting

1. Tour the courts first.
2. Ask: who's your best customer, what is one worth, what marketing works now?
3. Offer one or two options built for their goal, not the whole menu.
4. Show the payback: yearly price divided by what one customer is worth.
5. Leave with a decision date.

Start now

The Veterans Tournament (6–8 Nov) has no presenting sponsor: pitch the military, veterans and adaptive markets first.

The outreach timing and script are a suggested process, not measured results. Track contacts, meetings, proposals and signed deals for two weeks before setting targets.
