Before we start: who owns it, and who else is paying

Colorado's wildfire mitigation tax credit has a few rules that decide it before any work happens. Five minutes here means the invoice we hand you at the end matches what your accountant needs. Nothing on this form is filed with the state — Sixfold does not send it anywhere.

WHAT INTEREST DO YOU HOLD IN THIS LAND?

- ☐ Fee interest — I own it outright
- ☐ Easement or right-of-way
- ☐ Recorded lease
  Has to be properly recorded to count.
- ☐ Owned by an LLC, partnership or S corporation
  Ask your accountant first.

HOW IS IT HELD? IF MORE THAN ONE OF YOU OWNS IT, ONLY ONE MAY CLAIM

- ☐ Solely, by one person
- ☐ Jointly, or as tenants in common

Where property is held by joint tenants or tenants in common, the credit is allowed to one individual of the ownership group. Two owners do not get two credits, and a joint return shares one cap.

WHICH ONE OF YOU INTENDS TO CLAIM IT?

Is anyone else paying toward this work?

The question that most often changes the answer. Costs paid or reimbursed by a grant, an incentive, or a cost-share arrangement do not qualify — you can only claim what you actually pay out of pocket.

A government or nonprofit grant is covering part of this work	Yes ☐ No ☐
A county or district cost-share programme is covering part of this work	Yes ☐ No ☐
An insurance payment is covering part of this work	Yes ☐ No ☐
I am splitting the cost with a neighbour or another landowner	Yes ☐ No ☐
Any part of the area to be worked is publicly owned land — which never qualifies	Yes ☐ No ☐

IF YES TO ANY OF THE ABOVE — WHICH PROGRAMME OR ARRANGEMENT, AND ROUGHLY WHAT SHARE

STANDARD THE CREW WORKED TO

The measures above were performed to meet or exceed the applicable wildfire mitigation standards of the Colorado State Forest Service and the Division of Fire Prevention and Control — the standard the credit refers to, published at csfs.colostate.edu/wildfire-mitigation/ and dfpc.colorado.gov. This is a statement of the standard we worked to, not a certification — no third party has inspected this work, and Sixfold does not issue certifications.

Not tax advice. Copies of receipts must be submitted with your Colorado return — keep the original invoice with this sheet.

YOURS TO KEEP · GIVE IT TO WHOEVER PREPARES YOUR RETURN

What to hand your accountant, and when

There is no application and no waiting list for Colorado's wildfire mitigation tax credit. It is claimed on your ordinary state income tax return, with receipts attached.

Put these four things in one folder

- ☐ Your invoice from Sixfold
  Itemised, with the qualifying measures totalled separately.
- ☐ Your receipt or proof of payment
  Copies of receipts documenting actual out-of-pocket expense have to be submitted with the return. This is the part people lose.
- ☐ Form B — the work record
  What was done, in which category, and to what standard.
- ☐ Your before-and-after photographs
  Not required for the tax credit. Required in practice by your insurer — see the bottom of this sheet.

ANY GRANT, COST-SHARE, INSURANCE PAYMENT OR SPLIT COST THAT COVERED PART OF THIS BILL — AND HOW MUCH _____

Costs paid or reimbursed by a grant or incentive do not qualify. Your accountant needs to know this figure.

The two forms it is claimed on

DR 0104	Colorado Individual Income Tax Return — your return
DR 0104CR	Individual Credit Schedule — the credit is claimed here, submitted with your DR 0104

Copies of your receipts go in with the paper return, or uploaded using the E-Filer Attachment function in Revenue Online. Both forms are at tax.colorado.gov.

TWO THINGS WORTH KNOWING BEFORE YOU ASSUME A NUMBER

- Through tax year 2026 the credit cannot exceed what you owe. If your Colorado tax bill is $600 and the credit is $1,000, it is worth $600 to you. The remainder is not refunded and cannot be carried forward.
- For work paid for in 2027 that changes. The cap doubles to $2,000 and the excess is refunded — paid out even if it is more than you owe. Which year you pay in matters.

WHILE THE FOLDER IS OPEN — YOUR INSURER

Since 1 July 2026, a Colorado insurer that uses a wildfire risk score to price or underwrite your policy has to tell you that score in writing every year, tell you what mitigation discounts are available, count documented mitigation in how it scores and prices the property, and let you appeal the score. The same photographs and invoice are the documentation for that. What the discount is worth is a question for your carrier — the law requires one but does not set a rate.

This sheet describes published Colorado programme terms as of August 2026. It is not tax advice — Sixfold does not prepare or file returns and cannot tell you what you will receive. Confirm your own position with your accountant, and your policy with your carrier. Before and after, from the same spot

Photographs taken from a fixed position, before and after, are what makes mitigation documentable to an insurer. Stand in the same place both times — a pair shot from two different angles proves nothing to anybody.

Positions to cover on every job

- ☐ Each elevation of the house, shot from the property line inward
- ☐ The first five feet around the structure, looking down
- ☐ Any fuel break, along its length
- ☐ Slash piles built, or the ground where chip was spread
- ☐ Access route and driveway clearance
- ☐ Anything left standing that a homeowner might later think we missed

TWO RULES THAT MAKE THE SET USABLE

- Same position, same framing, both visits. Note a landmark in the description so the after shot can be lined up months later.
- Leave the camera's date stamp on. Undated photographs are worth much less in an insurance conversation, and the dates are the only thing tying the set to the invoice.

BEFORE THESE GO ANYWHERE BUT THE CUSTOMER'S FILE

Photographs of a customer's property are not marketing material by default. Written permission from the owner is needed before any of these appear in print, on a profile, or in a portfolio — ask at the walkthrough, not afterwards.

Photographs are not required to claim the Colorado wildfire mitigation tax credit — receipts are. They are documentation for your insurer under HB25-1182, in effect since 1 July 2026.
