Draft for review, version 2 (15 Oct 2026): not approved wording

This is the one-page agreement a 365 customer signs on 365aeration.com after Jen quotes by phone and takes half the price as a deposit. Signing it books the job. The customer types their name and ticks a box; the app keeps the time, the version and a fingerprint of exactly what they saw.

The wording was drafted from what the call agrees and how 365 works. It has not been reviewed by an attorney. The example below uses made-up details; the real form fills in each customer's own.

Version 2 takes in Matthew's answers to the first draft's questions (listed at the bottom), for Brandon to confirm or change.

What changed from version 1 (Matthew's answers), for Brandon

1. Deposit: non-refundable for now. Brandon to confirm
2. Reschedule or cancel: by calling or texting, with 24 hours' notice.
3. Sprinklers, pipes, dog fences: the customer only lets us know, so they can be marked. They don't have to mark or list them.
4. Gates and pets: gates unlocked and pets inside on the day.
5. Results: left out. Jen can talk about results on the call if it comes up.
6. The balance: the agreement doesn't say how it's paid. Jen settles that on the call (card on file, cash or a payment link, on the day).
7. Signing: a typed name and two boxes, one for "I have read this and agree" and one for signing electronically. The app keeps the time, the version and a fingerprint of what they saw.

Still open: whether any of this needs an attorney's look before real customers sign it.
